I AM TERRIFIED SELF-TITLED EP DEBUTS THIS MONTH
*Metal Core Band Kicks Off Album Release With Tour Run:
Hometown Birmingham CD Release Event Slated For July 18th

(Nashville, Tenn.) July 10th, 2008 – I Am Terrified, Gotee's newest metal core band, will unveil their six-song EP next week on their launch tour. The tour begins with a July 18th hometown CD release event in Birmingham, Alabama (Life Church 1449 Court Place Pelham, AL) where fans can purchase the EP exclusively. The EP will be available for purchase at iTunes on July 29th or be pre-ordered at Zamboogie.com.

I Am Terrified will move on from the hometown event to shows in Pensacola, FL, Mobile, AL, Houma, LA, Hot Springs, AR, New Iberia, LA, and then onto three more dates in Humble, Dallas, and Fort Worth, TX, as well as Oklahoma City, OK, Muskogee, OK, Springfield, MO, and finally Kansas City, MO on July 31st.

In addition to touring, the band will be shooting a new music video for the song "Falling On Everlasting" and one additional video this month. The current music video for "Heaven Knocking" has already cracked the Top 10 video play list on TVU, alongside of videos by Demon Hunter, Hawk Nelson, and Leeland.

I Am Terrified includes the three founding members, guitarist Jeremy Folse, vocalist and main songwriter Patrick Schefano, and Joel Bailey on drums, with bassist Dustin Carter and guitarist Brandon Henderson rounding out the mix. Road dogs for six years already, the band draws hundreds of fans per show and has toured and played shows with the likes of Maylene and the Sons of Disaster, The Showdown, Anberlin, August Burns Red, As I Lay Dying, As Cities Burn, Inhale Exhale, and Mychildren Mybride.
